SPECIAL OFFERING "H"

The Electric Railroaders' Association, Inc., is clearing out the few remaining copies it has of Pioneers of Electric Railroading: Their Story in Words and Pictures, edited by John R. Stephens. This publication is Volumes 51 and 52 of HEADLIGHTS Magazine for 1989 and 1990. This 222-page 8 1/2" x 11" soft cover book fleshes out the story of electric railroad pioneers and their achievements on the centennial of the completion of the Richmond Union Passenger Railway. This is the first successful, large-scale application of electricity for traction purposes on principals that became established standards.

This publication is quite complete with 15 chapters telling the stories of scientists who developed electric railways with many pictures, drawings and illustrations. While some might consider this work a bit dry, it is a single-source of the very earliest of attempts to use electricity to propel railway vehicles, including locomotives. Comparisons of these attempts are fully described so that the enthusiast learns the progression of the concepts of electric traction from scientist to scientist, from inventor to inventor. Every electric railway enthusiast should have a copy of Mr. Steven's work in their personal library.

There are only a few copies of this work still available. Don't be disappointed, fill out the coupon below and send it to us along with your check or money order. No cash, please. Since there are very few copies available, we can only make a limited number available for sale. This book sells for $49 for shipment anywhere in the United States, or $59 for Canada and all other countries.
